Resignation of Ickes Puts Truman on Spot

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—The explosive exit of Harold L. Ickes from the cabinet shoved President Truman today onto the toughest political spot of his White House career.

In abrupt language, Ickes declared the president's cabinet was one in which he could no longer serve and "retain my self respect."

In even blunter fashion, Ickes called upon the justice department to investigate the truth of testimony which Edwin W. Pauley, Mr. Truman's nominee for undersecretary of navy, has given in senate hearings on his qualifications. Ickes categorically charged that Pauley made statements under oath which were not true.

This slam-bang leave-taking of the man who has directed the department of interior since 1933 posed these immediate problems for Mr. Truman:

1. He has to select a new secretary of the interior ,and he was reported to be seeking an appointee of such top caliber that the nomination would tend to offset the circumstances of Ickes' resignation.

2. He faces the job of repairing whatever damage has been done in party ranks. Congressional elections come up this fall, with a presidential contest ahead in 1948—and Ickes long has had a substantial following in the new deal wing of the party.

3. He must decide whether to press for Pauley's confirmation to the navy post, despite the fresh handicaps posed by Ickes' bitter attack.

4. He has to neutralize the political dynamite which Ickes created in a post-resignation statement that he did not care to continue in an administration "where I'm expected to commit perjury for the sake of a party."

Ickes May Say More

The end may not be yet. Ickes indicated he may have more to say about his charges that Pauley, California oil men, suggested to him in 1944 that $300,000 could be raised from interested oil men for the democratic campaign fund if the government did not push its suit to establish title to off-shore oil lands. It was President Truman's comment that Ickes could have been mistaken in this testimony that brought the resignation.

The senate naval committee resumes hearings on the Pauley nomination next week, with Pauley scheduled to offer a rebuttal to the Ickes testimony. Ickes told reporters his own reappearance before the committee "depends on what Pauley has to say Monday."

Congressional reaction to the cabinet officer's smoking departure from the government was mixed. A number of southern democrats applauded his exit, while westerners had praise for the way he administered his department.

It was generally agreed that the capital has seldom seen such a sharp exchange between a cabinet member and his president. Ickes offered his resignation as secretary of interior effective March 31. Mr. Truman pointedly made the effective date February 15 ,in accepting it, and added "I also consider that this terminates all of your other governmental activities."

To this Ickes fired back in another letter: "I assure you that I have had no secret design, having resign-

Tugboat Strike Ends; Hitch Develops in Wage-Price Plan

(By The Associated Press)

New York City's paralyzing tugboat strike was ended today, leaving settlement of the nation's two major work stoppages—in the steel and automotive industries—prime objectives of federal officials.

Within an hour after New York's tugboat workers went back to work, the world's busiest harbor throbbed with activity.

Rigid fuel rationing regulations remained in effect, however. Although the crisis was over, a shortage was expected to continue for several days.

The back to work order to the 3500 tugmen was issued by union officials last night following an agreement with 91 employers to arbitrate disputed issues.

Schools, which had been closed for lack of heat, reopened. Heat was turned on again in subways. A brownout that has reduced Broadway's brilliant lights to war-time glimmer will be lifted at 6 p. m. tomorrow.

The idle because of labor disputes throughout the country totaled approximately 1,430,000.

In Detroit, Federal Mediator James F. Dewey laid the groundwork for resumption of negotiations between General Motors and the C I O United Auto Workers following a breakup of discussions Tuesday when the union rejected G M's offer of an 18½ cents hourly wage increase for 175,000 workers on strike for 86 days.

After conferring with Dewey, R. J. Thomas, U A W-C I O president, predicted that the dispute would be settled "in the not too distant future."

But there were no predictions as to the end of the country's big work stoppage as 750,000 steelworkers remained idle for the 25th day and the government officials reportedly were in disagreement on the administration's new wage-price policy designed to curb industrial strife.

The steel price increase of about $5 a ton had been believed agreed upon by government officials. But announcement was delayed when a last-minute hitch reportedly centered on whether the hike should apply only to carbon steel, and not to alloy steel.

Pledges Freedom For Indonesia

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

THE HAGUE, Feb. 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Schermerhorn has paid this column the compliment of asking it to perform a friendly mission for Holland by emphasizing to America his assurances that not only his government, but the people of the Netherlands as a whole are anxious to see Indonesia gain self government and within a fixed period freedom of choice for its own status.

This is by way of being a historic request, for it is indeed a striking recognition of the great Politico-social tide which is sweeping our world.

Dr. Schermerhorn has a wide reputation for being a humanitarian. During the war he led a free Dutch underground movement and the Germans had him in a concentration camp for a couple of years. Recently he joined the socialist labor party.

The prime minister's request came at the end of an interview on the general welfare of Holland.

"If you want to perform a good-will mission for Holland," he said, "you can do so by making her position regarding Indonesia clear to America. I am afraid there is a misunderstanding in your country, and the good opinion of our friends in the United States means much to us. I should like to get across the message that not only has the Netherlands government pledged itself to the final independence of Indonesia, but that the majority of the people of Holland are behind the government in this action."

We came away with the feeling that Dr. Schermerhorn believed a settlement on the basis of a Dutch commonwealth of nations was on its way.

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—Millard Tydings, the brilliant but easy-going senator from the BULLS-EYE race-track town of Havre de Grace, rarely rises to make a formal and extended speech in the upper chamber. But when he does take the time and make the effort, he usually hits the target truly and bravely.

During the current filibuster against establishment of the fair employment practice commission, the man from Maryland scored another bull's-eye when he accused both major parties and their highest leaders of "hypocrisy" in pressing this measure for passage at this critical moment in domestic and world affairs.

Without passing any judgment on the merits of the proposal to set up legal prohibition against any kind of discrimination in the hiring, promoting and firing of workers, the origin and history of this agency discloses that it was created and continued for selfish, ballot-box purposes. And that charge is against the Republicans as well as the democrats.

ADJUNCT It is not generally realized, but the FEPC was established as a war emergency agency, and it was expected that it would disappear like the office of Civilian defense, the foreign economic administration and the OWI when the crisis ended.

In the Congressional Directory listing the myriad federal bureaus and their duties, FEPC appears under the general heading of "emergency war agencies." It was first put within the old office of war management, but subsequently transferred to the war manpower commission.

The idea behind the presidential order creating this unit was to make possible the fullest utilization of industrial personnel in manufacturing planes and other essential products.

The Congressional Directory makes clear that it was meant to be only an adjunct to the war effort, for here is the description of FEPC's function: "The purpose of the new committee is to promote the fullest utilization of all available manpower and to eliminate discriminatory employment practices."

Vacant Houses Will be Surveyed

The Wallace housing committee, at a meeting last night, decided upon a survey of vacant houses in the Wallace area.

The committee today asked that owners of all vacant houses in Wallace, the Burke canyon, Nine Mile, the area along the Mullan road immediately east of Wallace and in the district as far west as Strope's tourist camp to notify Clyde Murray, secretary of the housing committee, of such vacancies as soon as possible.

Vacant houses should be listed whether they are usable or not usable, K. J. Morrow, chairman of the committee, said. In the event they are not usable, Morrow asks that the owners signify whether they would care to renovate the dwellings, and if they do, the committee will try to give them help in this matter, Morrow said.

It is imperative, he said, that the vacant houses be registered as soon as possible. Murray may be contacted at the George K. Garrett company in Wallace.

The committee also has applied to the national housing agency for 50 emergency housing units, which if secured will be located on the ground the city leases from the railroads north of the river in the west part of the city.

Application was made to the regional office of the N H A in Seattle. The committee also has asked the Idaho congressional delegation to give assistance in this matter.

AGREEMENT REACHED

Chungking, Feb. 14 (AP)—The outer Mongolian delegation said today it had reached an agreement with the central Chinese government to establish diplomatic relations and for the exchange of ministers.

LICENSES ON WAY

Automobile license plates for the 10 north Idaho counties have been forwarded to Moscow by rail from Boise, the Associated Press reported today.

Cars driven by Herbert Carlson, Wallace, and Wayne Reynolds, Burke, collided in Gem Tuesday night, causing some damage, they reported to the sheriff's office.

Minimum Wage Bill Approved By Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—The senate labor committee today approved legislation to fix a 65-cents-an-hour minimum wage and provide a broad expansion of coverage.

Chairman Murray (Dem., Mont.) said there was no record vote on the committee's action to put most retail, wholesale and service business under the act, with the minimum increased from 40 cents to 65 cents.

Senator Pepper (Dem., Fla.) sponsor of the measure for expanded coverage, explained that it would give the present wage act the same scope as that now existing under the national labor relations act. The law now covers businesses engaged in interstate commerce.

Pepper estimated that from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 additional workers in large department stores, wholesale establishments and chain business operations would come under the minimum wage provision.

He explained that the only exemptions would be "the small corner grocery store and the little business."

A special house committee investigating food scarcities was urged by a Dairy Products Association spokesman to bring about an increase in the price of butter at once.

Secretary of War Patterson requested the senate atomic energy committee to let the army and navy have a voice in the military applications of atomic energy under any domestic control legislation.

The house rules committee indefinitely postponed action on legislation to permit the state department to operate a worldwide cultural and informational program.

Bowles Reported 'On Way Out'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Several congressmen told reporters today that OPA Administrator Chester Bowles was "on the way out" of government service.

These reports were in sharp contrast to the information which went the rounds last weekend that Bowles was about to be promoted to the post of stabilization director.

One senator, who preferred not to be named, said that as a result of the wage-price policy controversy among those most closely concerned with the question, Bowles not only would not get the stabilization post but eventually would be let out of his job in the office of price administration. A member of the house, likewise asking anonymity, also insisted that Bowles was "out."

There was no confirmation or comment at the White House.

Man Wanted Here Held In Oregon

Sheriff Archie McPhail and Deputy Lewis Gardner will leave tomorrow for Eugene, Ore., to return Arthur Mosher, Murray, wanted here on a grand larceny charge.

Mosher has waived extradition, Sheriff McPhail was notified by Sheriff C. A. Swartz at Eugene.

Mosher is charged with grand larceny in a complaint signed by his wife, Alpha Mosher, who alleges he took $3000 worth of her jewelry when he left the district.

Coroner's Jury Absolves Johnson

A coroner's jury meeting in Kellogg yesterday afternoon reached a verdict that Ernest Johnson, 59-year-old Kellogg tavern proprietor, was justified in shooting Joe Boni, 31, Kellogg, last Friday night, and recommended that no charge be placed against Johnson.

Boni was shot through the heart with a .22 caliber bullet when he attempted to force his way into Johnson's tavern, Johnson told officers, adding that he meant to shoot Boni in the legs. Boni, he said, had been drinking and had "beat up" his wife, who is Johnson's stepdaughter. He and Mrs. Johnson had gone to the Boni home and had taken Mrs. Boni and her two children to their tavern after that incident, and that led to the tragedy, Johnson said. He declared he had warned Boni to stay out of the tavern and had fired once into the air in an attempt to frighten him away. The gun used in the shooting did not belong to Johnson, but had been left at the tavern for some one else.

The coroner's jury said that "Boni came to his death as a result of a gunshot wound inflicted upon him by the aforesaid Ernest Johnson under circumstances which were entirely excusable and justifiable by law. We recommend that the said Ernest Johnson be forthwith released from the custody of the sheriff and that no charge or charges of any character be filed against him."

Members of the jury were Leonard Churchill, Jesse Burkhart, August Peifer, Aloysius Conley, A. V. Ripley, Gus Smith, Ed Meyer, Andy Bloom, Jack Olson, Grady Stine and Ross L. Stout.

Ten witnesses were questioned by Prosecuting Attorney A. J. Graf, Dr. H. C. Mowery, county coroner, and C. E. Horning, attorney for Johnson, during the inquest.

SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. Hugh Toole, who died Monday, were held this afternoon from the Smith Funeral home in Spokane, Dr. L. N. Williams, officiating. Cremation followed. Mrs. Toole had lived in Wallace the past 28 years.

Nimitz Declares Navy May Prevent Atomic Air Attack

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz told congress today the navy's carrier fleet may make any atomic air attack on this country "very difficult."

At the same time, the chief of naval operations said submarines hold promise of becoming "the most successful vehicle for carrying atomic weapons to within short distances of coastal targets."

Appearing before the senate naval committee to present the navy's recommendations for the post-war fleet, Nimitz brought with him charts which showed plans for:

A system of 53 overseas bases for ships and planes—33 in the Pacific and 20 in the Atlantic-Carribean area.

A navy manned, afloat and ashore, by 500,000 enlisted men and 58,000 officers.

An active fleet of 319 combatant vessels, part of a total fleet of 1079 active, ready reserve and laid-up ships distributed in the two oceans.

An aerial striking force of 3731 aircraft, 2180 based on carriers.

In his prepared testimony Nimitz said "there is no doubt that the use of atomic explosives and other new weapons will have a profound effect on the composition and employment of armies, navies and air forces in the future."

Declaring that will the ships, together with armies and cities, are vulnerable the admiral added "ships are difficult and unprofitable targets for atomic bombing" and "almost impossible targets for super rockets." Then he said:

"The ability of our carrier task forces to prevent penetration by hostile aircraft may make atomic bombing very difficult.

Union to Discuss Strike Vote

Handbills which bear the heading, "Union Members Attention, a strike vote is pending" were circulated in Kellogg and the west end of the county yesterday and carry the announcement that Kellogg local No. 18 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, C. I. O., will vote next Sunday on the question of reopening the union's contract with local mines and demanding a 30 per cent wage increase.

"This may mean strike action to enforce our just demands," the handbills read. "Effective strikes cost money; therefore a referendum vote on the question of a local assessment to defray the costs will be held Sunday, February 17th, at the Kellogg C. I. O. hall."

The handbills set forth that issues involved will be discussed at meetings at 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. and that the polls will be open for voting immediately after each meeting.

A union representative advised the Press-Times this morning that a call for a similar vote among the membership of local No. 14 will be issued next week and that meetings will be held at the Wallace C. I. O. office on Sunday, February 24.

Membership of local No. 18 embraces employes of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan, Page and Sullivan zinc plant and some employes of the Sunshine while the membership of No. 14 includes workers of the Tamarack & Custer, Sherman Lead, Dayrock, Hercules, Hull Lease, Bitco, Golconda, Small Lease, Coeur d'Alene Mines and the Sunshine.

No such action is contemplated by local No. 9, Mullan, which is made up of workers of the Federal Mining and Smelting company's Morning mine, it was stated.

A spokesman for the various companies which have contracts with the I. U. M. M. & S. W. said this morning that no wage demands have been presented by union representatives and that as a consequence no collective bargaining on the subject is under way.

The companies involved and locals No. 14 and 18 signed contracts September 25, 1945 effective to June 30, 1947.

VOTE TO STRIKE

PORTLAND, Feb. 14 (AP)—H. W. Sprague, secretary of the A F L Foundry Moulders and Foundry Workers local said today that northwest foundry workers had rejected a wage offer and would strike Monday. The strike would close down 79 Pacific northwest metal working plants and eventually affect other enterprises using castings.

Senator Gossett Not Interested

BOISE, Feb. 14. (AP)—Senator Charles C. Gossett (Dem., Idaho) told the Associated Press today that he was "not interested at all" in the position of secretary of interior, which Harold L. Ickes resigned yesterday.

Gossett, in a telephone interview from his Washington, D. C., office, said he would support D. Worth Clark, former Idaho U. S. senator, "if the president wants to appoint him."

Gossett's name had figured in local speculation over the appointment after Boise radio listeners said they heard a San Francisco commentator yesterday say Gossett was among those being considered for the post.

Clark, now practicing law in Washington, D. C., has the support of many Idaho organizations.

Harry Marsh, Boise, secretary of the Idaho State Mining association, said he had telegraphed President Truman asking that Clark be appointed.

Gossett's formal statement to the Associated Press said:

"I am not interested at all and as far as I know I am not being considered for the position of secretary of the interior. I have no idea who it will be.

"However, I'll be for (D. Worth) Clark if the president wants to appoint him and if the president does appoint him he will be confirmed by the U. S. senate."

Solons Open Silver Battle

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Silver should be bought and sold by the treasury at its full monetary value—$1.29 an ounce—says Representative Mansfield (Dem., Mont.) in a campaign by westerners to defeat legislation reducing its value.

An amendment attached to the treasury appropriation bill, which would permit the sale of silver to manufacturers at 71.11 cents an ounce, should properly be referred to the house committee on coinage, weights and measures, they argue.

Mansfield said a bill to permit treasury sales of silver to industrial users at 71.11 cents already has been passed by the house and is now reposing in the senate banking and currency committee.

Asserting that he could see no justification for attaching the silver-sale amendment to the treasury bill, he added:

"If this silver measure passes it is going to work a hardship on our small mine operators and hinder our reconversion recovery. I can see no need for our miners to operate under such a differential as is proposed in this measure, and I urge the house to think twice before passing it."

Governor Names Three Legislators

BOISE, Feb. 14. (AP)—In a move translated in some circles to forecast an early call for a special session of the Idaho legislature, Governor Arnold Williams has announced two appointments to the house and one to the senate.

The appointees, all democrats, are: John Charles Herndon, Salmon, senator from Lemhi; Victor C. Ford, Homedale, representative from Owyhee, and Bert Almond, Downey, representative from Bannock.

They succeeded, respectively, the late Charles A. Beers; George R. Jones of Bruneau, who resigned to become state purchasing agent, and Roy T. Hale of McCammon, who resigned to take a post with the state agricultural department. Beers was a republican; Jones and Hale, democrats.

However, the "north Idaho man" the governor has said he would name lieutenant governor, presiding officer of the senate, has yet to be appointed.

Williams would not confirm the rumor that the special session call was imminent.

The new senator, who was discharged from the army about two months ago, brings to 21 the number of democrats in the senate as compared to 25 republicans.

Truman Meets Western Solons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—President Truman summoned western congressmen to the White House today for a series of talks in the wake of Harold L. Ickes' explosive exit from the cabinet.

Executive aides were rather noncommittal, but the speculation was that Mr. Truman—confronted with one of his touchiest political problems to date—was pursuing his quest for a successor to Ickes as secretary of the interior.

House Speaker Rayburn (Tex.), Representative White (Dem., Idaho); Senators Wheeler (Mont.), Hatch (N. Mex.), O'Mahoney (Wyo.) and Thomas and Murdock (Utah), all democrats, were among lawmakers called for conferences with the chief executive.

Legislators from the western states presumably would have a lot to say about a new interior department chief. The department manages vast federal land holdings in that section of the country.

Among those mentioned for the post Ickes vacated is D. Worth Clark, former Idaho senator and a democrat.

White House Secretary Charles G. Ross was asked by reporters whether all of the congressional engagements dealt with the question of finding a replacement for Ickes. He replied that he didn't think all of them did, but did not elaborate.

Ross reported President Truman would not hold a news conference which had been set tentatively for today, but probably would meet newsmen at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Speeding Plagues Paris Police

By CYNTHIA LOWERY

PARIS, (AP)—Between freewheeling, jeep-happy American soldiers and the normal traffic habits of French drivers and pedestrians, Paris police—civil and military—have one of the toughest jobs in the world.

It is extremely difficult to tell exactly how much of the snarl and the smash the Americans are responsible for, but—and this is obvious to anyone who gets around the city—there are a large number of automobile accidents in proportion to the number of automobiles.

Lieutenant Colonel Robert L. Hayes, deputy provost marshal, said that during one month there were 438 motor accidents which involved Americans.

Although MPs in Paris—now operating at skeleton strength make continuous efforts to control speed, American soldiers don't forget easily some of the fast and wonderful driving tricks they picked up on the road to victory.

A Frenchman apparently assumes he has divine protection the minute he is on the street. He wanders around in the middle of the street, watching people on the sidewalk; they look the wrong way before crossing an intersection; they drive 40 miles an hour down busy streets looking into the eyes of blondes beside them.

"We set up MPs in spots where we've been having reports of accidents, we make hundreds of arrests for speeding and we do everything we can to handle the traffic situation," Colonel Hayes said. "But we can't keep French people from walking out into the path of an automobile."

DRIVERS TO VOTE

PORTLAND, Feb. 14. (AP)—Bus drivers of Overland Greyhound stages will vote today in five northwest cities whether to accept a new company wage scale and return to work at midnight, February 17.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP)—The stock market today enjoyed a technical rally of one to three or more points, but eventually encountered opposition and advances, near the close, were well under their best in the majority of cases.

Dealings, fairly active in the forenoon, slowed as the session progressed and trends wavered. Star performers in the morning were the steels, motors, liquors, rails, rubbers, mines and specialties. Most of these backed away in the final hour and scattered losers appeared toward the finish. Transfers were around 1,300,000 shares.

Woman Hangs Herself in Jail

KELLOGG, Feb. 14—Mrs. Harold Phagan, 27, hanged herself in the Kellogg city jail about 12:30 this morning a few minutes after being placed, there by city officers. She used a small sleeveless sweater and death was due to strangulation.

City Officers McCoy and Williams received a call put in at the PikQwik store in Sunnyside "that a man and woman were fighting." When the officers arrived in the district they found Mrs. Phagan severely beating her four-year-old daughter, Rita Lou Phagan. She told the officers "I have just shot my husband."

The officers took the woman to the city jail and the little girl to the hospital, then went to check on her story of having shot her husband at the residence, 5 Mill street. They found Mr. Phagan, a Bunker Hill miner, asleep in bed.

When they got back to the jail, they found the woman dead. Phagan told officers that Mrs. Phagan was a former inmate of a state institution at Napa, Calif., and was released shortly before the family moved here. The body is at Stout's.

BOISE, Feb. 14. (AP)—A total of 2023 babies born last year in Idaho to wives of servicemen had their "entrance fees" into the world paid by the government.

Strikes Spread To Metal Mills

NEW YORK—Strikes spread to brass mills, the Laurel Hill copper refinery of Phelps Dodge, and the zinc mine and mill at Mascot, Tenn. plants of the American Brass Co. in the Waterbury area and at Buffalo were shut down on Feb. 4,and the plant of Chase Brass & Copper, at Waterbury, also closed on the same day, according to E. & M. J. Metal and Mineral Markets for the week ending February 7. Workers at the mill of the Scovill Manufacturing Co., Waterbury, walked out on Feb. 1. Bridgeport Brass is scheduled to close down Feb. 11. Transportation was disrupted in New York harbor because of a strike of tugboat crewmen. A wage-price policy was expected hourly from Washington to clarify the situation for all industry. The only price development last week was the removal of the ceiling on silver by Canada.

Copper

Interest in copper naturally centered in the latest strike developments. That the movement of metal will drop sharply in February is regarded as certain, but few in the industry are concerned about what the statistics are likely to show under prevailing abnormal conditions. The statistical record for January should be relatively good, as a substantial tonnage was moved in the first month of the year.

Details on the government's purchase program for Latin American copper are not yet available. With the market for foreign copper definitely firmer, and with costs rising, producers are not anxious sellers of the metal under the old terms.

Imports of copper in December totaled 61,125 tons, of which 6387 tons was contained in ore, etc., 12,-12 tons was blister, 41,765 tons refined, and 41 tons was contained in old and scrap.

Lead

Demand for lead was active throughout the week and sales for the period involved 9731 tons. Books for March lead were opened, which accounts for the increased volume.

According to a news report from Washington, OPA intends to take action to increase the price of lead "at this time." Lead authorities regard the situation in the metal as wrong and cling to the view that to increase production the price will have to rise sooner or later.

In a reply to a recent statement that automobile men that a reduction in battery supplies is forcing cars off the road, Administrator Small, OPA, said that sufficient lead has been provided during the period Oct. 1, 1945, to March 31, 1946, to permit production of 9,223,000 replacement batteries, as compared to production of 8,862,000 replacement batteries during the same period a year ago. This does not indicate, he said, that we are faced with a widespread immobilization of automotive equipment due to lack of replacement batteries.

Supplies of lead to consumers in the United Kingdom are being rationed, according to the Metal Bulletin, London. Deliveries to consumers absorbing more than two tons a month are limited to a percentage of average monthly consumption in the four-months' period September-December 1945, subject to an adjustment in relation to the consumer's stock position. For the first quarter of 1946 the rate was fixed at 80 per cent.

Zinc

Zinc producers are encountering difficulties in making regular shipments because of a tight situation in the matter of obtaining box cars now tied up because of strikes in various industries ,particularly steel. The mine and mill of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co., at Mascot, Tenn., shut down on Saturday because of a strike for higher wages. Producers of Prime Western, used in galvanizing, report a decline in the movement of the metal because of the coal strike. Die casters, however, continue to take liberal quantities of special high grade.

Silver

Effective Feb. 1, Canada abolished the ceiling price of 40c an ounce on silver sold for domestic consumption. The ceiling on silverware also was upped, but the ceiling price on silverplate was retained. Canadian producers may now sell their entire production at the world price. However, they have been asked by the Canadian authorities to give prior consideration to Canada's needs.

The New York Official price for foreign silver was unchanged last week at 70¾c an ounce. London continued to quote 44d.

Callahan Elected At Mine Meeting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Discontinuance of governmental restrictions on business was urged today by members of the American Mining Congress, who elected one Utahan and one Idahoan to office at their annual meeting.

Donald A. Callahan of Wallace, Idaho, was named a vice president and director, and David D. Moffat of Salt Lake City a director. Howard J. Young, president of the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting company of St. Louis, was elected president.

A lengthy declaration of policy drawn up by the membership urged removal of price controls on metals and minerals and a return to a free market.

The statement also:

Declared management must retain the "right to manage" and said "the functions of management must not be impaired by union organization of supervisors or by any other device";

Opposed the proposed St. Lawrence waterway as "needless and unjustifiable";

Declared that "war-time concessions" of greatly increased rates of pay and other wage-increasing devices could not be maintained without greater productivity on the part of labor," adding "we favor high wages provided they are earned by increased efficiency."

Hungary Faces Wild Inflation

By A. I. GOLDBERG

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary today is broke and getting broker every minute in a mad dream world of printing press banknotes.

It is a nation with 1,000 years of independence housing and feeding an occupation army variously estimated from 150,000 to 1,000,000—no official figure is available.

It knows that it must pay in six years $300 million in reparations to Russia, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, and try meantime to bolster an internal economy, restore factories, build up agricultural production, prove that it can be a democracy, settle minority problems, and try to live at peace with neighbors who fought on the right side of the United Nations ledger.

The Hungarians argue that German pressure put them into the war where defeat found them and that German economic domination made their path a one-way, wrong-way road.

There are many who fought them who agree, and the spectacle of Soviet Russia and the United States in a mild race to restore Hungary's diplomatic status, with the hope that industry and economic revival might follow, is one aspect of that attitude.

But the printing press banknotes made for wonderment.

In the days when the English pound sterling was worth $4.86, an American dollar bill bought about five Hungarian pengos.

Shortly before the war the pengo was worth about 10 cents.

By mid-August Americans in Budapest on occupation missions, paid in American currency, were buying 1200 to 1500 pengos to the dollar. At October's beginning, the yield was 4000 to 6000.

Bid mid-October, a dollar bill one day bought 12,000, the next day 15,000, the third day 18,000. And the end is not in sight as the printing presses role.

This lil' rabbit is going to be busy keeping an ear to the ground, because he has only one. Mrs. Mary Souza, Long Beach, Calif., who holds the one-eared bunny, explains the rabbit was born with just a dent where the other ear should be, though his brothers and sisters are normal.

IS NOW SERGEANT

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tallmadge received word from their son, Don Tallmadge, stating he has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. He is with the First Division and is stationed in Nuernberg, Germany, where he has been 18 months. He is wire chief of his company. Tallmadge has re-enlisted for one more year and will arrive soon to spend a 90-day furlough. He has been in the service more than two years.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Norman Geschwind, the former Jeanette Simard, arrived this week from California to visit her mother, Mrs. E. F. Gentry and other relatives in the district. She was recently discharged from service in the WAC. She is en route to New York to meet her husband, Captain Geschwind, who is returning from England.

Jack E. Coulter, Hamilton, Mont., visited friends here today en route to Pendleton, Ore., to attend the Pacific Slope Division of Newspaper Advertising service. With him were Edward Dugan, professor of journalism at the University of Montana and Mrs. Dugan and Mrs. Mildred Hazelbaker, manager of the Montana Press association. Coulter, former Wallace Press-Times editor, is a Montana Press executive board member.

"Murder!" They Cried

By DOROTHY STALEY

Copyright, 1946, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Phillipa tries to strike Dru with her riding crop but Fletch knocks it out of her hand. The blow sends Phillipa reeling. Frank, a farm-hand, has watched the scene from a window. Miss Fenny confides to Nonn that she is worried about Betsy's running around with Pen Downes.

VII

BETSY came in shortly after 5 o'clock. Betsy and I have the rooms upstairs on the dining room side of the house. They face the rock gardens, and were once the nursery suite. They are pleasant rooms, cool in summer and cheery in winter with their open fires. There is a bathroom between Betsy's room which is in the back, and my room; and the small room in the front of the house, which used to be the schoolroom, is now an upstairs sitting room. I heard Betsy come into her own room. She came to the bathroom door and called "Nana?" and I answered, "Here, Betsy. Come in."

The heat had turned her hair into a hundred ringlets and in the flat-heeled shoes and the peasant skirt and blouse she was wearing, she looked like a little girl.

"Where is everybody?" she asked. "This house is as empty as a parking lot." There was a curiously suppressed excitement about Betsy that annoyed me.

"This house has been just about as empty as Grand Central Station today," I snapped. "People have been coming and going at all hours, and always in a hurry, and life here has been pretty much in the raw."

Betsy dropped down on the hassock at my feet. "I'm sorry, Nana," she said. "I forgot for a minute about Phillipa. Has she brought the boys back?"

"Of course not," I answered. "You know Phillipa means what she says. Fletch has been looking for them all day." I added quietly, "I thought maybe you were helping him since you weren't with your mother."

IT was taking unfair advantage. Her face clouded. "I'm afraid I was selfish today, Nana. I had the whole day with Pen." The cloud was gone and there was nothing but radiance in her face now. She got up and stretched her arms high above her head. "Oh, Nana, we had the most marvelous day. I sat in the studio while Pen painted. It was so hard for him, Nana, this coming back. He is trying to break away from those horrible war paintings and to go back to the things he did before the war, and it I'm there, it is so much easier for him. He says I'm like the quiet of sunlight on a placid lake. He needs only to look up and see me sitting there to feel rested; to forget the horror that he lived with so long."

I thought, "Well, Pen Downes, you know the proper approach, don't you?"

That was typical of the man. He knew the proper approach for any type of woman. To Betsy he was just another sick kitten to be yearned over and comforted.

"He was so much better today, Nana." Her eyes glowed. "Nana, he even played for me. Brahms. It was wonderful."

I knew Pen Downes was almost as good a musician as he was a painter.

"It was the first time, Nana, he has been able to touch a piano. He couldn't bear to go near one. I've done that for him, Nana."

I had heard it said a girl couldn't go wrong on Bach. I hoped at that moment that the same held for Brahms.

"What about Travers?" I said. "Who is going to help him forget some of the horrors he has seen?"

"Oh, Travers," she dismissed with a shrug, and I felt sick. Travers Dick had been pretty important to Betsy; now she could cover her feelings toward him with a shrug.

THE three of them, Fletch, Travers and Betsy, had been an inseparable trio for years. When Betsy was small and tagged after them, Travers had tolerated her with a good-natured amusement because she was Fletch's sister, and Fletch liked Betsy tagging along. But along about when Betsy was 16, it was Fletch who tolerated her with good nature; it was Travers who insisted that she tag along. Travers had taught her to ski and play tennis and drive a car. He had criticized her clothes and checked on her companions, and if he failed to, she consulted him. He was almost finished medical school when the war started. He spent his internship in the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia and then had been assigned to the Pacific area. Now he was back in Portsmouth.

Betsy said, "Travers doesn't need any one. He is completely self-sufficient."

I couldn't quite see Travers being self-sufficient, unless you can consider an affectionate setter as being self-sufficient.

"And," continued Betsy, "Pen loves me."

I said, "So does Travers."

She looked at me almost with disgust. "So does Fletch," she said. "You don't marry someone whom you've known all your life like a brother."

"Your mother did," I retorted.

"But Pen needs me, Nana."

"Where, Betsy," I asked, "is his wife through this period of readjustment."

She said briefly, "Connecticut."

She added defensively, "I don't know why you ask. She doesn't care anything about Pen."

I said, "I wonder why. He is a completely fascinating man, and she cared enough to marry him. I should think she wouldn't want to leave him alone. You wouldn't, would you, Betsy? That is, without good reason."

That was, as Fletch would say "hitting below the belt."

Eagles See Scout Demonstration

A demonstration by members of Boy Scout troop 38, Osburn, highlighted the meeting of Wallace aerie No. 54, F. O. E., last night. The boys were treated to ice cream and cake following.

President W. C. Smith introduced the scoutmaster, R. C. Johnson, and gave a short talk on future leadership that comes from Scout training.

Plans were made for the anniversary meeting and the birthday of Otto Nicolai, charter member, on February 27.

A dance will be held Saturday night for Eagles and their ladies and music will be furnished by George Mackey and his orchestra. This will be the first of a series of Saturday night dances.

Eight candidates were initiated and lunch was served by Steward C. J. Bond. Several musical numbers were played by Fred Galipeau and Claud Sink after the meeting.

Discusses Idaho Schools At Meet Here

Kenneth Hill, Kellogg high school principal, was guest speaker at the A. A. U. W. meeting held at the home of Mrs. Edgar Wood Tuesday evening. Twenty-one members were present. Hill pointed out various problems existing today in the Idaho school system and told of the survey being made by the Peabody institute.

Lunch was served. Hostesses were Mrs. Wood, Mrs. R. E. Sorenson and Mrs. Robert K. Johnson.

State Will Have Bigger National Guard

BOISE, Feb. 14. (AP)—The war department has fixed Idaho's national guard post-war strength at 5616 men, more than double its pre-war level, Major John Walters, assistant to the state adjutant general, said today.

Walters said the state would have no difficulty in recruiting that strength.

Safety Council Schedules Meetings

BOISE, Feb. 14. (AP)—The first of a series of statewide meetings to reduce accident fatalities will be held in Boise tonight by the Idaho Safety Council.

Ray H. Mellish, new manager of the council, said similar meetings will be held tomorrow in the Kellogg-Coeur d'Alene, Payette-Weiser, Twin Falls-Jerome and Pocatello-Idaho Falls areas.

Mellish said the conferences were being arranged as part of the council's expanded 1946 program. He reported that accident deaths in Idaho last year numbered 514. They included 181 motor vehicle, 61 occupational, 144 in the home and 111 miscellaneous.

Peron Denounces U. S. Blue Book

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 14 (AP)—Colonel Juan Peron denounced in an interview today the United States blue book which named him and other leaders of the Argentine military government as friends of the Germans.

"It is part of the well known Braden plan which disturbs not only the good relations between the two countries, but the tranquility of American republics which see their dignity and sovereignty threatened by untimely interference," the former vice president told El Laborita, official publication of Peron's labor party, which is supporting him in the February 24 presidential election.

U N O Security Council Nears Adjournment

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP)—The United Nations security council agreed today to take up the issue of British and French troops in Syria and Lebanon tomorrow and the general assembly rushed toward adjournment of its first historic meeting.

Working at top speed the assembly hoped to pass quickly upon recommendations for a temporary headquarters site in New York city and a permanent one in Westchester and Fairfield counties of New York and Connecticut, and dispose of a big five resolution calling upon United Nations members to take "immediate and drastic action" to remedy the world food situation.

The council cleared its agenda of all other issues except the Levant dispute last night by voting against intervening in Indonesia and by deferring action on an Albanian application for U N O membership.

ed as secretary of the interior, to hold on to any other office under your jurisdiction."

Another strained detail was that the White House abstained from its usual practice of releasing the resignation letter and its acceptance, with the result Ickes ignored custom and made them public himself.

And finally there was Ickes' parting broadside in a radio speech last night, declaring he could not "retain my self respect and stay in the cabinet of President Truman."

It was in this address Ickes challenged sworn statements by Pauley that the latter was not active in seeking discontinuance of federal action to establish title to tideland oil. He singled out one statement in particular as "simply not true" and called upon the attorney general to examine such portions of Pauley's testimony before the naval committee.

And as a parting thrust, Ickes referred again to what he termed a recent "decided and alarming deterioration in the quality" of Mr. Truman's appointments.

Valley Basketball Tourney Scheduled

The Coeur d'Alene Valley Basketball conference tournament, to decide the conference entry in the A. A. U. tournament in Spokane next month, will be held in the Kellogg high school gymnasium next Thursday and Saturday, it was announced today.

In the opening round the Stein of Wallace meets the Smelter and Bunker Hill plays Rose Lake. The championship and consolation finals will be played February 23.

In a game here last night the Stein defeated the Bunker Hill, 43-24. The Stein meets Rose Lake next Wednesday night and has one other conference game following the tournament.

Tragedy Failed To Halt Vandals

MOSCOW, Feb. 14 (AP)—University of Idaho started its conference basketball season in the shadow of tragedy, but it is climbing doggedly now toward its first northern division Pacific coast conference title in 27 years.

A road-trip automobile accident which killed a substitute forward and student manager was a dismal prelude to the Vandals' conference debut. The shaken team lost its first three games. Then it started fighting back, winning seven of its last eight contests to move into a first-place tie with Oregon State.

The "iron man" Vandals still have five rugged games ahead. Anything can happen. But the traditional league leaders have learned that Idaho potatoes cannot be kept too long in the cellar without sprouting.

Coach J. A. (Babe) Brown emphasizes teamwork in a conference studded with stars. His starters play with little relief when the road is rough and their scoring consistently is evenly distributed.

Four games this week-end may determine the conference champion. As Idaho plays fourth-place Washington in Seattle, Vandal fans will cheer the cellarite Washington State Cougars in a series with the Oregon State Beavers.

Since Gale Bishop, the nation's leading scorer last year, enrolled at Washington State, the pastime of Cougar-clubbing has lost its popularity in the league. The Vandals' arch rivals may help turn the trick for Idaho.

After that Idaho still must meet Oregon twice and try for a fourth victory over Washington State. The race is not won, but the steady, determined Vandals have in sight a fitting memorial to their lost comrades, and they do not intend to stop now.

Boxing Matches Scheduled Tonight

Boxing fans should see some good matches tonight when Wallace and Bonners Ferry mittmen tangle in a match in the high school gumnasium. Twenty-seven rounds of boxing are scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

Six of the bouts listed tonight are rematches of bouts fought earlier in the season in Bonners Ferry, and inasmuch as local ringmen lost three of those bouts and drew in one, they will be seeking tonight to balance the books.

ROSE LAKE WINS

KELLOGG, Feb. 14—Rose Lake trimmed the Bunker Hill five in a Valley league basket ball game here Tuesday night 58 to 39. Meneely, Rose Lake, starred for the victors. The Coeur d'Alene Valley Basketball tournament will be held February 21 to 23. Wallace plays the Bunker Hill and Rose Lake meets the Bunker Hill in the initial contests on Thursday night at 7:30.

Cage Standings To be Decided

Although eight conference games will remain to be played after this week-end, the seven conference tilts tomorrow and Saturday nights should pretty well decide the final standings in the Panhandle class A basketball conference, barring upsets.

Coeur d'Alene can put the title on ice with a double win this weekend, although it will have one game next week—at Bonners Ferry.

The Vikings, with only one defeat this season, will virtually clinch the pennant with a win over Kellogg tomorrow night in the Lake city. Kellogg, the closest challenger, has two losses, and if the Wildcats lose to the Vikings, Coeur d'Alene would have to lose to Mullan and Bonners Ferry to drop to a tie for first place—and that is hardly likely.

The spotlight this week will be on the Coeur d'Alene-Kellogg and Kellogg-Priest River games. If the Wildcats lose to the Vikings, then they and Priest River will be tied for second place when those two teams battle in Priest River Saturday night, providing Priest River defeats St. Maries tomorrow night.

The Wildcats barely edged the Priest River team, 30-29, last week-end in Kellogg, and on their home floor the Spartans are expected to be tougher.

Final conference standings are important for they determine the pairings in the tournament.

Wallace takes on the cellar teams this week-end, meeting Mullan here tomorrow night and going to St. Maries Saturday night. Bonners Ferry plays in Sandpoint tomorrow night.

Cougars Lose To Webfoot Cagers

EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 14 (AP)—In a free-scoring melee the University of Oregon basketball Webfoots downed the Washington State Cougars 69-65 last night to even up a two-game series.

The previous night the Cougars, sparked by Forward Gale Bishop's 32 counters, defeated the Webfoots 68-61. Bishop, who returned from service too late to pull the Cougars out of last place in northern division standings, led his crewmates again last night with 20 points.

The see-sawing lasted until the last five minutes when Oregon moved in front with a nine point edge after the lead had changed 16 times.

The win put the Oregon club back in the running for the northern division title. Idaho and Oregon State share the lead, a full game in front of the Webfoots.

Decision Blow To 'Undercover' Managers

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP)—A decision which Eddie Eagan, chairman of the state athletic commission ,asserted would help eliminate "undercover managers" in boxing, was handed down yesterday by the state supreme court.

The court upheld the commission's power to supervise and control all contracts between fighters and managers. It held void a contract between Heavyweight Joe Baksi and Hymie Wallman and Nate Wolfson, who once jointly managed Baksi, because, among other things, it was not approved by and filed with the commission.

KELLOGG DOWNS MULLAN

KELLOGG, Feb. 14—YMCA junior high won both an "A" and "B" division basketball contest Tuesday night with Mullan, 18 to 6, and 15 to 10, respectively, in the Kellogg high school gymnasium.

Steals His Way Into Cozy Jail

VINCENNES, Ind. (AP)—Persistence put Charles Graham, 60-year-old farm laborer, in a jail cell. Graham came to police headquarters and asked to be locked up, explaining that he was ill and had no one to care for him. Captain Harry Parmenter told him he couldn't be locked up if he had committed no offense. Graham left, but returned a half hour later and placed a small bottle of perfume on the captain's desk. "I just stole it from a 10-cent store," Graham said. "Now can I go to jail?" His request was granted. Among belongings he turned over to the jailer was a bank book showing $1005 on deposit.

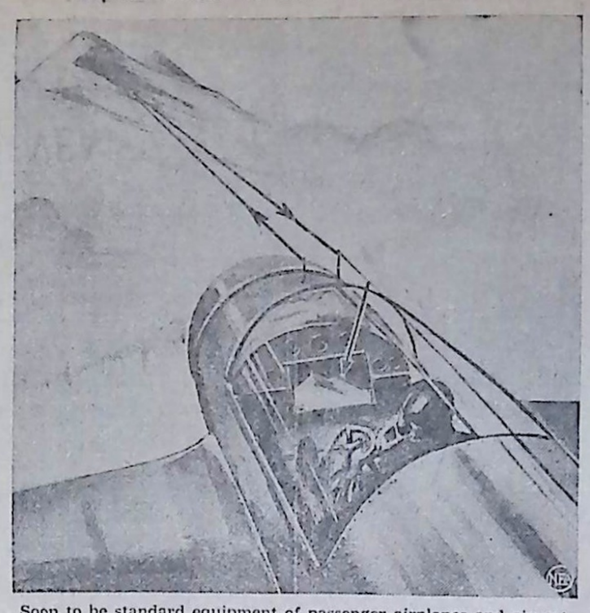
Expect Radar to Cut Plane Collisions



Soon to be standard equipment of passenger airplanes and airport control towers will be the magic eye of radar which "sees" through poor visibility to give warning of dangers ahead, in the manner illustrated in the above sketch from Mechanix Illustrated magazine. As shown, radar detects the mountain peak ahead and reflects the warning image on the "collision screen" (arrow) in the plane cockpit.

Pays To Advertise Even When Hiking

WESTERLY, R. I. (AP)—A sailor on holiday leave with his parents here tried to thumb a ride to Texas—the easy way.

He sent the following advertisement to the Westerly Sun.

"Local sailor wishes ride to Corpus Christi, Texas. Leaving Westerly sometime tomorrow on route 40. Would accept ride as far as Ohio or Kentucky. Experienced driver has navy license and willing to take turn at driving. Call 5804."

The first telephone in the White House was installed in 1880, when Rutherford B. Hayes was president.

Tear a hole the size of a quarter in a sheet of paper and hold it at arms length. Looking through the hole, with both eyes open, fix your eyes on some object across the room. Now gradually draw the paper toward you until it touches your face. The hole will be over one eye. If you're left-eyed, it will be the left eye; and the right eye if you're right-eyed.

Scientists say that in every person one eye is dominant, but that doesn't mean the other eye is weaker; in fact it may be the strong[er] discovered that [right] doesn't necessarily [mean] eyedness. You were [born] one dominant eye.

NO CAUSE FOR SURPRISE

Removal of the Russo-Iranian dispute from the UNO Security Council's agenda offers an easy excuse for wholesale hair-tearing and general dismay. But there is really no reason for it.

With the veto power in the hands of the Big Five representatives on the Council, it has always been clear that any controversy involving one of the big powers would almost certainly be stopped by that power's veto before action could be taken. The only question in this case was what face-saving maneuver the Council might agree upon.

The precedent established by the ineffectual settlement of Iran's appeal was interesting, though it may well be temporary. Certainly the referral back to the two countries involved is less a triumph for Russia than an out for Britain in the Greek and Indonesian controversies, if the British government should want to take advantage of it.

Thus it might seem that what the United Nations Charter defines as "any dispute, the continuance of which is likely to endanger the maintenance of international peace and security," could not be touched by the Security Council unless it were a case of positive aggression and a shooting war—and not even then, if one of the Big Five were involved.

But the three situations in Iran, Greece and Java have been unusual. The presence of the foreign troops in all three places was legitimate, even though their subsequent actions may not have been. There is a good case for calling any one of the three incidents aggression. But the circumstances are an outgrowth of the war, and might not be encountered in the same setting short of the end of another conflict.

So the referral of the Russo-Iranian dispute back to the governments concerned for further "negotiation ,enquiry, mediation, conciliation ,arbitration, judicial settlement, resort to regional arrangements, or other peaceful means of their choice"—to quote the United Nations rule book again—may not be so important after all.

It is most likely that Russia will win out without any dramatic international showdown. And many other disputes involving the Big Five may be disposed in a similar ineffectual fashion. Yet one day there is going to have to be a showdown.

Sometimes, unless the nations mend their ways, there will be a case in which one of the great powers is clearly in the wrong, and in which that power will have to exercise the veto power in order to avoid penalties or punitive action. That will be the signal for the showdown, with preponderant world opinion marshaled behind the effort to correct the inequities of the present veto system which otherwise must eventually defeat the very purpose for which the United Nations organized.

It will be a bitter fight, for unquestionably Russia, at least under her present leaders, will vigorously oppose any change. Let us hope that this showdown will not have to come as a last-minute measure when the world is already on the brink of another war.

Would Give Vets Chance At Goods

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—The house expenditures committee went to bat today for veterans seeking surplus war goods.

Chairman Manasco (Dem., Ala.) described this as one of the chief aims of the group as it opened hearings on legislation to overhaul completely the surplus property disposal act.

Manasco told newsmen he thought the group would approve a change in the law to give veterans a higher priority position than they now have.

At present they are topped in the priority scale by federal, state and local governments and their political subdivisions.

tionality or origin," the organization's basic and primary task is to safeguard colored people who seek work in plants where the majority of employes are white.

FEPC officials and advocates deny this, but the fact is that the vast majority of disputes brought before the board or its regional offices involve Negroes. Cases affecting members or other races are negligible, as a survey of the docket reveals.

Thus the present controversy boils down to an attempt by the democrats to hold this important bloc of votes, and a maneuver by the republicans who support it in the face of southern legislators' resistance to bring the colored population back to the political party of Abraham Lincoln.

PRIZE The outcome of the 1948 presidential election, as well as the congressional contests next fall, may hang on the result of the present controversy on Capitol Hill. For the colored vote, if it lines up on one side or the other in fairly substantial numbers, could determine the fate of the White House candidates in states having 167 electoral votes, or only 99 less than the victorious total of 266.

Those commonwealths are New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan. In view of the northward emigration of Negroes during the war years of 1941-1945, it may be that they have assumed a balance-of-power position in other areas—New England, for instance. Anyway, their support at the polls is a rich prize.

BLAME The republican members of the congressional committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster have already begun to frame a sizzling minority report that puts the blame on the highest diplomatic and military officials at Washington, including President Roosevelt, former Chief of Staff George C. Marshall, Secretary Cordell Hull, cabinet members Stimson and Knox.

The G.O.P.-ers will charge that Washington showed either ignorance or negligence in not forwarding authentic information of the Japanese menace to the officers responsible for alerting our Hawaiian outpost against external attack—Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Lieutenant General Walter C. Short. Although it has not been determined definitely, they may suggest that the withholding of data and the delay in rushing a last-minute tip was deliberate.

POST-MORTEM The major responsibility will be laid at the door of the White House, the state and army-navy departments, although the Hawaiian commanders will not go scot-free.

Party strategists, however, doubt whether the G.O.P. can gain much political capital from the revealations or the forthcoming adverse report. The committee's mail indicates that the general public has lost any real interest in the post-mortem.

Even more important, death, discharges and resignations have removed every principal actor of the drama from military, diplomatic or political life.—Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Sam Hackney has a trade mark

Before Sam Hackney got successful, his wife used to make his bow ties for him. They came out an inch longer than average — and Sam came in for a lot of ribbing. But he only smiled and took it.

Of course, Sam doesn't need to economize now; he's one of the best real estate men in the country. But he still wears those long bow ties. Prospective customers may not remember his name or his face, but the minute they see Sam, they say, "That's the feller!"

37 Killed in Calcutta Riots

CALCUTTA, Feb. 14 (AP)—An air of uneasy quiet hung over Calcutta today after three days of widespread anti-British disturbances which unconfirmed reports said left 37 persons dead and nearly 400 injured.

Strong British military detachments continued to patrol the city, where 13 were killed and more than 150 hurt yesterday in repeated clashes between military forces and mobs which appeared bent on destroying anything connected with the government.

Transportation remained at a standstill this morning and telephone, telegraph and postal operations were seriously affected. European shops, many of which were damaged and looted in Tuesday's uprising, remained closed in most sections. Two postoffices have been looted.

A nauseating stench hung over many areas as garbage piled up in the street because of interrupted collection service. Gas street lights in some sections remained unlit during the night.

Nineteen additional American casualties were reported last night when a convoy of 800 homeward-bound G Is was showered with bricks and a rail tie dropped from an overhead bridge near Kanchrapara. Eighteen Americans were injured earlier.

The All-India congress party, the Moslem league and the communist party sent "peace squads" into disturbed areas last night and after a midnight tour they expressed the opinion that the situation would improve, although their automobiles were attacked by mobs.

Target Ships To be Repaired

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—The navy will assign its crack salvage crews to rush repairs on target ships damaged in the first atomic bomb test so they can be blasted again in the second.

Heading the repair units will be Commodore William A. Sullivan, whose salvage feats made possible the prompt use of demolition-wrecked harbors in Africa and Europe during World war II.

Test officials said today the joint task force will be prepared to carry on 20 major repair operations simultaneously at Kikini atoll.

Task force experts said the plans for quick repair of damaged target ships emphasize a point they have been making—that the Kikini atoll trial is a giant laboratory experiment rather than a simulated battlefield effort to destroy all targets at once.

Acting under specific orders from the joint chiefs of staff, the task force has arranged what it hopes will be a program of graded destruction, ranging up from negligible damage to destruction.

Flashes Of Life

WORLAND, Wyo., Feb. 14 (AP)—Any plans Herman Rauchfuss of Worland and Henry Schmidt of Lovell had for raising cattle on the planets of Mars or Pluto have been more or less left in space.

The two war veterans applied to the U. S. grazing service for land on Mars and said they were offered instead, grazing rights on Pluto.

Now—What with Pluto so far off (and considering other disadvantages)—the two have obtained equipment and will go into the road construction business.

Says Rauchfuss: "We are getting down to earth."

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 (AP)—Twenty-one former service men living in one northwest side block were models in a novel fashion show and home-coming party last night.

The Victory club, organized two years ago by residents of the block to raise funds for the servicemen, had given each $100 to buy new "civvies." A $300 balance in the club's fund was used to stage the welcome home party.

HARRISBURG, Ill., Feb. 14 (AP)—Johnny Johnson, 15-year-old eighth grade pupil, turned the tables on his teacher by taking his home work in arithmetic to school to be worked out.

Principal Fred Armistead yielded to Johnny's appeal for help in computing his federal income tax.

Japanese General Takes Responsibility

SHANGHAI, Feb. 14 (AP)—A suicide note of Lieutenant Colonel Moriji Hattori, assuming complete responsibility for the cremation of three American flyers in Hankow February 16, 1944, was read today at the war crimes trial of 18 Japanese accused of participation in the brutal killings.

The note added that he was carrying out army orders.

Hattori was identified as commanding officer of the gendarmerie detachment which Chinese witnesses testified beat the three flyers with cordwood, then cremated them alive.

Four defendants sobbed violently as the note, dated Nov. 23, 1945, was read into the evidence by the prosecution. Hattori swallowed poison in a Hankow hospital as Americans sought him.

Feather Bed Makers: Here's Your Man

FORT ATKINSON, Wis. (AP)—Ernie Hausen isn't even mildly concerned over the news that a wonderful new machine has been built to remove feathers from chickens five times faster than by hand.

Ernie is the world's champion chicken-picker. He can do the job with his hands in three and one-half seconds. He's 60 years old now and has been meeting all challengers for 20 years. He picks chickens by the hundreds just to keep in practice. He'll do it blindfolded or wearing handcuffs.

Hausen dips the chickens in 164-degree water, quickly runs his large, powerful fingers across the wings, from the tips inward; does the same with the legs, finally peels the feathers from the back and breast. Suddenly the bird is as bare as a billiard ball. It doesn't have to be singed.

He tells of picking 1472 birds in seven hours and 45 minutes in a contest.

Sandy Polaski Learns To Blow Bagpipe

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—Even soldiers of the Polish army learned to skirl the bagpipes during the war.

Pipe Major William Ross, M.B.E., noted Scottish bagpipe instructor, reports that he taught 713 pipers from British dominions and other countries. The courses were sponsored by the Piobaireachd Society of Edinburgh Castle. Ninety-three Canadians learned to pipe.
